Program Information

Primary Access Code

To avoid conflict with existing codes, we recommend that you choose an access code that is descriptive of your school and program. For example, a code for the University of New Hampshire’s First Year Experience program could be “UNHFYE.” Additional codes may be set up by your program administrator.

Primary Access Code: _____

Program Start Date (when you will use the program with students): _____

Programs Served

Please select the programs with which you intend to use the course (for example: SSS, Upward Bound, FYE, etc.). You can always add additional programs later.

Program Name	Number of Students

Pricing and Terms of Service

The license fee for Financial Literacy 101 is $1,500 per site (typically a school or community organization) per year and auto-renews yearly unless written notice is provided at least 30 days before the renewal date (based on the "Program Start Date" on the previous page). The license fee includes:

- Unlimited course access
- Multiple access codes for different student groups
- An administrative control panel with usage export functionality for each access code
- A PowerPoint presentation for group sessions
- An administrator guide
- Technical support (email for students, phone for the site administrator)
- Self-serve survey data reports (Decision Partners-produced reports are $500 each)
- Unconditional satisfaction guarantee

No individual student data (beyond basic usage information shared with course administrators) is released to any third party except as required by law. Decision Partners does release aggregate student data for the purposes of data reporting. Please review our complete Terms of Service and Privacy Policy at decisionpartners.org for more information.
